WORLD'S MARKETS

New York, Feb. 23.—Uneasiness was again the dominant note at the opening of today's market developments over the holidays making for greater caution. Most specialties were lower, with marked heaviness in Industrial, Alcohol, Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotives and other issues of the same class. New Haven's decline of a point was the only feature of the railway list. These losses were offset in a measure by further advances in South Porto Rico Sugar, United Fruit, Marine preferred and some of the metals, but representative shares were irregular.

UTAH STOCKS.

Summary of the Local Market. Ogdén, Utah, Feb. 23.—Both the mining and industrial markets were strong this morning. Practically all the mining issues advanced on good buying orders. Colorado Mining closed with 26 cents bid and 28 asked which is considerably above the closing price of Monday afternoon. Prince Con. was in good demand at $115 and both the Silver Kings of Park City were strong. Among the industrials in which there was the most inquiry Amalgamated Sugar was advanced to $163 bid. Utah-Idaho Sugar is quoted $16.40 bid and 16.55 asked. Con. Wagon was traded in within very narrow limits with $100 bid and $100.50 asked.

Quotations furnished over the private wire of J. A. Hogle & Co., Brokers, 2438 Washington avenue.

PETITION FOR STOCK IN THE LAKEVIEW COMPANY

An order has been issued from the district court that the administratrix of the estate of the late Willard U. Cragan appear in court March 3 and make an accounting of her administration. The order was issued on complaint of Wilson E. Cragan and Lydia Peterson, heirs, that certain personal property has been sold without an order from court. The complaining heirs state that the estate was appraised at $12,390.

On March 3, in the district court, will also be heard the petition of Mary E. Kell for probate of will and for letters of administration in the matter of the estate of John C. Sullivan, deceased.

The petition of administrator J. L. Robson of the estate of Noah Wardle, deceased, for final settlement of the accounts, will be heard March 3.

On the same date will be heard the petition of Mrs. Mamie W. Smith to have distributed to her 6000 shares of stock of the Lakeview Mining company of the estate of Lorenzo Farr, deceased, her former husband.

A petition for the termination of a life estate in the matter of the estates of Alfred and Sarah J. Berrett, deceased, will be heard March 3.

HIGH PRIESTS OF THE STAKE HOLD A REUNION

The first annual reunion of the High Priests of the North Weber stake was held at Plain City. The ward meeting house and amusement hall were utilized for the staging of the different features of the program, which consisted of an entertainment and get-acquainted meeting at 11 o'clock in the morning, and a banquet and dance beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. In every way, the affair was a big success, being declared one of the most interesting and enjoyable social events that has yet been held in the stake.

The program of the morning meeting consisted of readings, recitations, speeches and musical selections, and the get-acquainted hour with which it was closed, was productive of a fine social spirit. The banquet was of the type characteristic of the hospitable people of Plain City, excellent in every particular. It was prepared and served by the members of the ward Relief Society and the Young Ladies Mutual Improvement association and was enjoyed to the fullest extent.

At 8:30 p. m., the high priests, numbering 84, with their ladies and specially invited guests, making a total of 221, adjourned from the banquet room to the dance hall and there passed the hours of the evening in dancing. Music for the dancing was furnished by Nylander's orchestra, which also favored the crowd with a number of selections in the banquet room.

The high priests that attended the party were all residents of the North Weber stake wards in Weber county, the Nevada wards not being represented.

WEBER ACADEMY IS TO MEET TEAM FROM DAVIS COUNTY

Thursday night, the Weber academy basketball team will play against the Davis county high school team on the academy floor, the game being one of the state high school schedule.

Early in the season, the Weberites defeated the Kayville five, but since that time, the latter team has made a big improvement in play, under the direction of Coach Briggs. Though too late to have a bearing on the northern division championship, the game should prove as interesting as any of the season, as the Kayville team recently defeated the Ogden high school squad and has been bending effort to duplicate the trick against Weber.

Monday night, the Weber academy team defeated the Never-Rips by the score of 60 to 5. The lineup for this game was as follows:

Weber: King, V. Critchlow, H. Dunbar, Bassett, Wilkinson, J. Stewart, Nixon, C. Frank, Allison, Roberts, C. Critchlow, I. Reardon, Van Dyke.

IDAHO MAN STRUCK BY O. S. L. TRAIN IS KILLED

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Park Wardwell was struck by an Oregon Short Line train and instantly killed. The accident occurred about a mile south of Roy station, Wardwell walking south and the train coming north.

The man was hit on the right side of his body, breaking the right arm and shoulder and cutting a hole into the abdomen. The body was brought to Ogden and taken to the Larkin undertaking parlors. Papers found on the body identified the man to be Park Wardwell of Emmett, Ida. He was 50 years of age.

Deputy Sheriff J. L. Hobson visited the morgue this morning and readily identified Wardwell, with whom he was well acquainted. He also knows the man's brother-in-law, Edward Hayes of Emmett. Mr. Hayes is a wealthy banker and is interested in the First National bank of Emmett.

Mr. Hobson states that Wardwell's father, who is dead, was a wealthy man and practically had owned all the land on which the town of Emmett had been built. He is of the opinion that Wardwell has an estate of considerable value.

Wardwell was a lumberman and was employed by John McNish of Emmett, a large lumber dealer. He was an eccentric man and took pleasure in walking around the country. His sister, Mrs. Hayes, usually handled his property and furnished him means whenever he was in need.

No money was found on the body when it was picked up. Undertaker Larkin was directed to send a telegram to Mr. Hayes of Emmett.

CARD OF THANKS
We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to friends who assisted us in our recent bereavement in the death of our husband and father and comforted us with words and acts of sympathy. We appreciate the gratitude of those who sent beautiful floral offerings. May they be equally blessed and comforted in their bereavements.

AS HER SCHOOLMATES REMEMBER DEAD LAKE FOREST GIRL

Five happy poses of Marian Lambert.

Before tragedy entered into the life of Marian Lambert of Lake Forest, Ill., her schoolmates knew her as a happy, care-free girl. She was only eighteen when, after a meeting in a woods near Lake Forest with William Orpet, University of Wisconsin student, she died of poison. Orpet had paid her attentions, but shortly before her death had told her of his engagement to another girl. Marian Lambert, it is said, feared disgrace, and the fear was shared by Orpet, who is now under arrest, charged with murder. Orpet insists he is innocent.

HOW ZEPPELIN WAS DESTROYED

Eye-witness of Exploit Tells Thrilling Story of French Destruction of the L-Z-77.

OFFICER GIVES SIGNAL

Great Searchlights Locate Airship and Special Guns on Moving Automobiles Open Fire.

Paris, Feb. 23, 4:40 a. m.—An eye-witness of the destruction of Zeppelin L-Z-77 by French gunners on Monday near Revin, a town nine miles northwest of Barle-Duc, thus describes the exploit.

"Two Zeppelins were signaled at 10:25 o'clock at night by an artillery officer in a listening post in the first line trenches of the Argonne. The night was clear and the wind moderate. The officer could not see the airships but he heard the noise of their engines and telephoned to the battery base, whence the news was forwarded to the army corps headquarters. All the batteries of the district were at once on the alert and within five minutes searchlights were sweeping the heavens in all directions.

Zeppelin Is Sighted.
"The Zeppelins were first sighted by an officer commanding a battery of an anti-five millimeter guns. The nearest was then about two miles off, flying at an altitude of about five thousand feet and rising rapidly. The second Zeppelin was some three miles behind the first. The officer was unable to get the elevation necessary to hit the airship but he managed to give the exact position to the searchlight operators. From that moment until it was destroyed the first dirigible was never lost to view and the searchlights never left it. As it was moving against the wind its progress was relatively slow.

Automobiles With Guns Start Pursuit
"As soon as the warning reached Revin five automobiles with searchlights and with special anti-aircraft guns manned by naval gunners, started in pursuit. These guns threw a shell which is expressly designed to explode on contact with the aluminum painted covering of the Zeppelins and to burst into flames once inside. As the cars move along the road the officers standing in the back of the car gives the range and directs the fire of the gun by the crew which work the gun lying flat on their backs.

"The guns on the moving automobiles opened fire as soon as they came within range. A shell burst just behind the Zeppelin throwing it into strong relief and immediately the gunners seized their opportunity. Another shell passed over the target, but the next, of the inflammable type, hit the mark squarely about 75 feet from the stern. There was a shout of triumph from the Frenchmen as the shell appeared to go through the body of the airship and to adhere to the right side of the frame work, which it set on fire. A few seconds later two other shells went through the rear of the car, badly damaging the steering and elevating mechanism.

Ship Bursts Into Flame.
"For an instant nothing seemed to happen and then a thin red line crept along the side of the airship, which shone with a bright ruddy glow as the flames spread and moved upwards. No explosion was heard as the Zeppelin began to fall. The great mass, now blazing more and more fiercely, descended slowly, while burning fragments of the covers fluttered away in the wind and the onlookers expressed surprise that the airship took so long to come down.

"The cargo of bombs, which there is reason to believe were to have been dropped on the inhabitants of Paris, exploded with a terrific roar as the Zeppelin struck the ground. Fragments of its car were hurled over 2000 feet away and the remainder of the huge frame work collapsed in a heap, the fire continuing to burn several hours.

Second Zeppelin Flees.
"The second Zeppelin, which had witnessed the disaster to its companion, turned tail and hurried back to the German lines.

"It is believed that the Zeppelins belonged to the crown prince's army. The commanders had hoped to steal across the French lines unperceived, all lights in the gondolas having been extinguished, but the head wind proved an obstacle to the speed which is so essential to the successful undertaking of this kind and this gave the defense time to bring up guns."

The gun crew which fired the shot that proved fatal to the Zeppelin will receive prizes amounting to 15,000 francs, 10,000 francs being awarded by a leading Paris newspaper and five thousand by Marquis Ornano. Checks for these sums have already been sent to the minister of war for distribution.

THE BETTER WAY
Charles M. Schwab, congratulated in Pittsburgh on a large war contract which he had just received from one of the warring nations, said: "Some people call it luck, but they are mistaken. Whatever success I have is due to hard work and not to luck."

"I remember a New York business man who crossed the ocean with me one winter when the whole country was suffering from hard times. "And you, Mr. Schwab," the New Yorker said, "are like the rest of us, I suppose, hoping for better things?" "No, my friend," I replied. "No, I am not hoping for better things. I've got my sleeves rolled up and I'm working for them."—Exchange.

WHY NOT
"Pa," said the six-year-old, "what is a prince?" "A prince," said his father, "is a king's little boy. Now, if I were a king you would be a prince."

The youngest thought is over for a moment. "Why don't you be one?" he asked.

THE NAIL
George Ade was talking at the Chicago Athletic club about a poor but beautiful working girl who had eloped with an octogenarian banker. "There is nothing remarkable about it, though," said Mr. Ade. "Winnie, you know, was manicure. Well, many a manicure nails a multi-millionaire."

The Corner

—the gripping TRIANGLE Play, with Willard Mack and George Fawcett, touches the very heart strings as you watch the tense and exciting moments of this wonderful play.

So true to life is the story, so realistic is the acting, and so strong are the personalities flashed on the screen, that you almost feel yourself an integral part of the thrilling drama as you watch the powerful financier build up a wonderful money making machine only to crush himself beneath its weight.

This powerful photoplay, together with the wonderfully funny Keystone Comedy, "FAT-TY AND MABEL ADRIFF," is now playing at The Ogden Theatre. One of the best bills ever seen in Ogden, and one that you would surely regret missing.
